To Your Tents, O Israel.
37,000,000 Heathens.
29,700,000 Automobiles.
A Japanese Law.

By Arthur Brisbane

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT made a good speech at Houston, free from foolish vituperation, free from common sense. This is unusual. The terrific onslaught of Mr. Claude Bowers' keynote impressed all. The wind-up of that speech, "The battle hour has struck. Then to your tents, O Israel," puzzled Will Rogers, who says "The only thing I never saw was one living in a tent."

Mr. Bowers will tell Rogers that Abraham himself lived in a tent, moving it about from place to place, with his flocks and herds. So did many of his relations when Ritz-Carlton hotels were unknown.

A surprising feature of the Houston convention was the result of Senator Robinson's prejudice for absence of religious prejudice.

The appeal started several fist fights, "the police swinging stick-kicks and blackjacks." Anybody who expects to get peace and good will out of differences in religious opinion is an optimist.

The Rev. D. H. McDennitt tells the Baptist World Messenger "37,000,000 human beings nominally Protestant are entirely neglected. No church reaches out to get them."

Why not try to find a dozen Hill Sundays and some more Moody and Sankey teams, to reach these 37,000,000? It should not be hard to interest that crowd in eternal punishment, or eternal happiness, if you can make them believe.

In this country we have one automobile for every five people. Everybody could ride at the same time.

Abyssinia, with the fewest automobiles, has one car for every 91,743 people.

The 1,300,000,000 human beings on earth have 23,700,000 automobiles, 24,000,000 in the United States. We certainly are prosperous.

Japan passes "a peace preservation law" under which anybody attacking the government, in secret associations, will be put to death. Members of associations hostile to the government, seeking to change the fundamental constitution, will go to jail for two years. Those conspiring against private property and the private ownership system will go to jail for 10 years.

The Japanese know what they want and how to get it. The government trial year for that 10-year jail law—and perhaps get it, some day.

Rear-Admiral Bradley A. Fiske offers a suggestion to discourage criminals.

The automobile is the criminal's "getaway." He drives up, robs a store, shoots up the police, jumps into his automobile and is gone.

Rear-Admiral Fiske suggests that following an automobile holdup all auto traffic be stopped in streets.

I suggest that the police send three or four whistles, all policemen hearing it to pass it along. Traffic would stop, cars could be searched. Any man leaving the signal would be identified as a criminal.

On warships, says Admiral Fiske, when men get out of control the bugler sounds "Attention." Every man then stands where he is, or proves himself mutinous.

In Houston's convention hall, colored people are separated from whites with heavy wire screens. Colored men from the North call it "The first Jim Crow convention."

GOODWIN IN RACE FOR GOVERNOR; FLAYS ALLEN

Frank A. Goodwin today announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for Governor of Massachusetts.

PRIEST TELLS MILL STRIKERS TO STAY OUT

New Bedford, June 29 (AP)—The Rev. H. J. Noon, pastor of St. James Catholic Church, today announced that New Bedford textile workers are never to return to the mills in the next 100 days unless they are offered a 10 per cent cut in wages.

The ballot totals were: Robinson, 914 1-6; Barkley, 77; Mrs. Ross, 23; Allen, 23; Fletcher, 7; Woolen, 2; Stephenson, 4; Berry, 17 1-2; R. V. Taylor, 6; Moody, 9 1-2; Tumulty, 1.

Ballot changes before the roll call ended gave Robinson the nomination virtually by acclamation. Robinson was placed in nomination by Senator Bretton of New Mexico and, after a ten-minute demonstration in honor of the nominee, Senator David I. Walsh of Massachusetts made the principal seconding speech.

The Massachusetts Senator urged the convention "here and now to destroy the spirit of sectionalism and to demonstrate that the Democratic party is ready to nominate candidates irrespective of locality whether from the southland or other parts of the country."

Senator Walsh described the "Smith and Robinson" ticket as a "unity to the challenge of senator Mears, who as chairman of the Republican convention, had invited the Democrats to bring on their candidates, "his name, Brown, Jones, Robinson or Smith."

"That was a challenge to the convention people such as the speaker is proud to have in his ranks," said Walsh. "We accept the specifications."

Before the speeches for Robinson, Alabama placed in nomination Maj. Gen. Henry T. Allen, U. S. A., who commanded the American Army of Occupation on the Rhine.

Mrs. T. S. Talbot, of Rock Springs, Wyoming, nominated Mrs. Nettie Taylor Ross, former governor of Wyoming.

The crowd raised its appreciation of Mrs. Ross and one of the bands struck up "Chrysanthemum."

The name of another Al was placed before the delegates by former Senator A. O. Stanley of Kentucky who nominated Allen W. Barkley of the Blue Grass State.

There was some cheering as the bands struck up "My Old Kentucky Home."

Senator Harris of Georgia then told the chairman the delegates were anxious to get home and he obtained unanimous consent to limit nominating speeches to five minutes and seconding speeches to three minutes.

Before the convention was called to order today the nomination of Robinson had been assured, and this was evident as Franklin D. Roosevelt appeared on the platform as the convention opened.

Robinson had departed from the ball and gone to his hotel. The hall filled rapidly. Thousands of Texans had been unable to attend any of the sessions. Police and doorkeepers were general and charitable to the home folks.

Delegates themselves were tardy after an almost celebration of Smith's nomination.

After Roosevelt's call to order he turned the gavel over to Senator Hal Hare of Mississippi.

The invocation was pronounced by Bishop Doonan of Houston.

SMITH SEEKS CHANGE IN PROHIBITION LAW

Albany, N. Y., June 29 (U.S.)—Pledging himself to a strict enforcement of the Federal constitution, "without reservation or evasion," elected President, Governor Smith of New York, at the same time, today expressed his opposition to the "fundamental changes in the present provisions for national prohibition."

The telegram, which was addressed to Chairman Robinson, read: "I regret that I cannot be present in behalf of the convention. With a deep sense of responsibility and a fervent prayer for the guidance of Divine Providence, I accept the call of my party to lead it in the national campaign. I can think of no greater privilege in this world than to serve my country. My gratitude to the convention for its expression of confidence in me I cannot adequately express in this telegram. I will endeavor to have it manifested by singleminded action to the United States and her people in every session."

The telegram was received in behalf of the convention. With a deep

"The next thing," said Chairman Harrison, grinning broadly, "will be a little music."

"I Can't Do Without You," sung by Kern Atwood of New York, one of Irving Berlin's young men, floated out. There were calls for more and the young men gave them.

"Back in Your Own Backyard," a lot of train announcements followed the singing, emphasizing the thought that new supporters uppermost in the convention's mind—to get away.

Then as the announcements were made trains were puffing in the city's railroad yards, ready to start after the adjournment.

"A hand held forth. 'The Side-Walks of New York.'"

"This, of course, had to be followed by 'Dixie' and 'Honey' sung by Miss Melvina Passmore, the home town grand opera singer, and one captivated the crowd."

While Judge Michael Solle of Essex, Ala., was placing Gen. Allen in nomination, Homer Caster, chairman of the Mississippi delegation, announced movement by riding down the crowded crowd aisle astride a small donkey. Two other horse riders, small boys, followed in single file.

Caster, arriving at the Mississippi section near the front of the hall, saluted Chairman Harrison and disappeared.

The full call was resumed and Arizona yielded to New Mexico.

Senator Drayton placed the name of Senator Robinson before the convention. A crash of applause that seemed to sweep nine-tenths of the delegates greeted the name of the Arkansian.

"We are engaged in making history which affects not only the people of the United States, but the whole world," Drayton said. "We have nominated a man who should govern this great commonwealth for at least four years, beginning next March."

"We have performed a great task. Now we must name with him a candidate for Vice-President."

"We need a man who knows the needs of the American people. The man I present has served in public office for 25 years, and he is only 55 now. He has submitted himself repeatedly to the people of his own state and never once have they failed to register their approval of him."

Drayton recalled that Robinson presided over the turbulent Democratic convention at San Francisco eight years ago. No one, he said, had any complaint about the fairness and impartiality of his action in that difficult task.

PAID FOR ROBINSON

"And so," he concluded, "without taking any more of your time, I'm going to give you the name of Sen. J. T. Robinson, of Arkansas."

There was a mighty cheer which apparently came from all sections of the hall.

The Arkansas home folks grabbed up their standard and started cheering the aloes, and it wasn't but a few minutes until most of the delegates in the hall were in the procession.

State banners that would not even bow to each other in the aloes during the Smith nomination now joined together in support of the Arkansian. New York's ensigns rubbed with those of Georgia, Texas, Illinois and South Carolina found something in common. Missouri and Pennsylvania and Ohio marched along together.

From the platform it seemed at the standards except Tennessee, Alabama, Kentucky and South Dakota were in the aloes.

After the demonstration had been in progress about 10 minutes Benj. King of Utah, who momentarily had assumed the chair, began pandering for order, when order was restored, introduced Senator Walsh of Massachusetts to second the Robinson nomination, the other

Senator Curtis Sidetracks Politics for R. I. Rest

By FRANCES L. BAIRD

Riverpoint, R. I., June 29.—"Swing me 'way up high, gran'pa! Up up!" That's the kind of music that rang in Senator Charles Curtis' ears today as he began his vacation at the home here of his daughter, Mrs. Leona Curtis Knight.

Early this morning the viewless, dental nonstop two grandchild, grandpa, who arrived last night from Washington for a two weeks' visit. They were alone when he arrived.

Little Constance, five, immediately after breakfast dragged grandpa out to the swing under a large gnarled old apple tree on the front lawn of Greystone Farm, and demanded to be "pushed" high up into the leafy ceiling.

"You bet, sonny my girl," exclaimed Senator Curtis when Constance climbed upon his lap while her brother Curtis, seven, occupied the other side of the bench. "I know I will swing her as long as she likes and not get tired like Mr. Curtis here, who likes his set cat, 'Hinkie,' better than swinging his sister high."

Not as the choice of a mighty political party for an important office, but as "just the nicest grandpa in the world," Senator Curtis will rest and relax for the big campaign in scenes of pastoral beauty on the high hill overlooking Pawtuxet Valley.

The wonderful here with the children and the flowers, Senator Curtis smiled as he strolled through the governor's flowering garden at Greystone looking for yellow roses. "I shall not think of politics for awhile, but just enjoy life here," he said.

Senator Curtis will be entertained at the Quantum Club Thursday by G. O. P. leaders of the state. It also is planned to hold a reception at the Lodgeport Country Club on July 7 in his honor, and matters.

Missing from home for two weeks, during which time police have dragged the Charles River and carried on a search for his field as Constance, Mrs. Agnes Spokowski, 40, of Arlington St., Watertown, was found today at Boston City Hospital.

She has been at the hospital since the day she left home, noting that she had no visitors and started an investigation which led to the discovery that her family did not know her whereabouts. A mistake in the setting of the same delayed Club on July 7 in his honor, and matters.

SMITH OUT FOR CHARGES IN DRY LAW

ions of men, women and children, who constitute the nation, was the great driving force behind the legislation enacted by the Imperial Jefferson, given life by him and carried through by Cleveland and Wilson.

STANDS BY PLATFORM.

I am convinced that our platform, which doctrine, I stand committed to the platform, and will welcome an opportunity to reorganize and make more efficient the agencies of government to the end that the burden of taxation may be lightened.

"Our platform lays at rest the hard claim boldly put out by Republican propaganda that the Republican party has a monopoly upon the mechanics of prosperity."

Our platform in its tariff and financial policy gives assurance to every legitimate business man, wage earner, farmer and taxpayer that property will not only be conserved but fairly distributed among all.

LOVE YOUR NEIGHBORS.

The definite declaration of the convention to aid agriculture, and the planks dealing with labor problems are sound, progressive and sincere, as is also the party commitment to the development of our water power without alienating our God-given resources.

"Our plank on foreign policy states the simple truth that the duty of the people of this nation is to defend our constitution and laws, and I will execute that duty to the limit of my ability without reservation or evasion."

THE EQUAL AND EVEN ENFORCEMENT of the law is the cornerstone upon which rests the whole structure of democratic government. If it is the will of the people of this nation that I am to take an oath as President of the United States to protect and defend our constitution and laws, I will execute that duty to the limit of my ability without reservation or evasion.

MUST CHANGE DRY LAW.

It is well known that I believe there should be fundamental changes in the present provisions for national prohibition, based, as I stated in my Jackson day letter, on the feasible application to the problem of principles of Jeffersonian democracy.

While I fully appreciate that these changes can only be made by the people themselves through their elected legislative representatives, I think it to be the duty of the chosen leader of the people to point the way which in his opinion is the most sensible solution of a condition which I am convinced is entirely unsatisfactory to the great mass of our people.

Common honesty compels us to admit that corruption of law enforcement officials, bootlegging and lawlessness are the prevalent conditions throughout this country.

OPPOSES THE BALDWIN.

I am satisfied that without returning to the old evils that grew from the saloon, which years ago I held still held was as much always to be a definite institution in this country, by the application of the Democratic principles of local self government and state rights, we can secure real temperance, respect for law, and eradication of the existing evils.

In my formal acceptance of your nomination, I shall give to the people of the country my views in full upon all of the issues of the campaign.

In the way I know that you can do it, I thank you for the confidence they have reposed in me and my assurance that, with their support, I confidently expect to win the historic Democratic Party to victory in November."

of Massachusetts that I am a candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor. There are two major reasons for this decision.

"First—The next vital question in Massachusetts pending for solution is honest impartial law enforcement. I submit my record while registrar of motor vehicles on this subject as a promise of what may be expected if I am elected Governor."

"Second—I do not think the present Lieutenant-Governor should be permitted to become Governor for these reasons:

COURTNEY HOP IS DELAYED BY BROKEN RADIO

HIT, RUN DRIVER GETS TWO AND HALF YEARS

Horta, Island of Fayal, Azores, June 29 (AP)—Dunnage to his wireless equipment made it doubtful if Capt. Frank T. Courtney, British transatlantic flier, could take off today for Halifax on the second lap of a flight to the United States. He had planned to hop this afternoon.

The captain arrived at Horta yesterday, completing a thousand-mile hop from Lisbon in eleven hours.

Mr. B. Hooper, Montreal banker and banker of the flight, will make the trip to Halifax. The other members of the crew are Fred Pierce, of Walsley, England, the mechanic, and R. W. Gilmour, of Glasgow, wireless operator.

Leo B. Tigue of 30 York st., Cambridge, was given 2½ years in the House of Correction in East Cambridge today when found guilty of operating a car and leaving the scene of an accident without making himself known, endangering the lives and safety of the public, and assaulting John Flansberg of Dorchester.

Dennis Scannell, owner of the car, Tigue is alleged to have operated, was found not guilty of driving the car and leaving without making himself known after an accident. He was given 30 days in the House of Correction for destroying city property, in wrecking a cell in Station 5, East Cambridge, when confined there on a complaint.

The case grew out of the accident in which Scannell's car figured on Bathers at Carson Beach are warned that the city lifeguards patrol only in front of the bathhouse and that they should note the white barrels which mark the danger zones off the bathhouse. Persons using the beach say the danger is chiefly at low tide. The dangerous mud channel and mud holes are then only a few yards beyond the rim of the water along the beach.

'GREAT LOVER' IS DEAD

Leo Ditrichstein, who is dead in Vienna at the age of 66, is shown here as Jean Paurel in "The Great Lover."

Ditrichstein was noted as one of the greatest American actors and dramatists. He was born in Hungary, but won his greatest successes in the United States after his American debut in 1890.

DITRICHSTEIN, STAGE STAR, DIES AT 66

Vienna, June 29—Leo Ditrichstein, 66, noted American actor and playwright, died in a sanatorium at Auenbrug last night from heart disease. His body will be cremated.

Leo Ditrichstein, son of an Hungarian baron, in addition to his fame as author, actor and playwright, was probably the most beloved matinee idol in the history of the American stage.

Ditrichstein was born in Hungary in 1862 and after a German stage career made his first appearance in this country in New York at the Amberg theater in 1890. Three years later he played his first English-speaking role in "Mr. Wilkinson's Widow."

His stage career was associated primarily with romantic roles. Probably his greatest success came in the title role of "The Great Lover," a play partly of his own authorship.

Next to "The Great Lover," Ditrichstein won his greatest measure of fame as "Zerkow" in the first American production of "Trilby."

There followed a long series of appearances which included the part of "George Desmond" in "Hedra Gabler," of George Fisher in "Are You a Man?" of Sacha Tatichoff in "The Phantom of the Opera" and of Felix Tarbell in "The Egoist."

He was co-author of more than 30 plays, in several of which he collaborated with Clyde Fitch.

His health forced him to give up the stage in 1924 and with Mrs. Ditrichstein he returned to Europe to spend his remaining years. He was a member of the Lambs' Club and the Players' Club and maintained an estate in Stamford, Ct.

LEOMINSTER MAN SEEKS $25,000 FOR INJURIES

Fitchburg, June 29—An attachment for $25,000 in an action of tort was filed in the Worcester North Registry of Deeds here against Arthur Dargis of Fitchburg, also of Leominster. The writ is returnable in superior court, August 6. Dargis seeks to recover for injuries said to have been sustained when he fell from a wagon belonging to Champanne.

DEATH LURKS HERE FOR THE CARELESS

At low tide the white barrels which mark the dangerous mud holes at Carson Beach rest high and dry on the sands and, therefore, are disregarded, users of the beach point out.

WHITE ESTATE HUB THEATERS PLAN TO FLASH LATEST NEWS

The first and final accounting of the estate of the late Robert White estate was allowed today in Suffolk Probate Court by Judge Dolan, showing $5,025,809 in real estate turned over to the city of Boston and $380,029.18 in personal property remaining as balance.

The executor, the First National Bank, Harriet J. Brodway and Charles L. Hamilton have received $20,284.26 each for services, and Charles B. Barnes has received $20,000 for legal services.

A period beginning March 2, 1922, to February 11, 1925, is covered in the accounting.

The executor says that the amount of personal property received by them was $1,653,860.54.

To the collector of internal revenue has been paid $129,025.12 for income taxes; to the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, $225,344.05 in inheritance tax and $10,014.44 income taxes; to the State of Maine, $20,284.26 inheritance tax; and to the State of New Jersey, $28,207.12 inheritance tax.

Distribution by the executor included legacies under Mr. White's will of $5000 to the proprietors of Forest Hills cemetery; town of Acton, $25,000; and $100,000 each to the Museum of Fine Arts, the Massachusetts General Hospital and the Children's Hospital.

Last minute news at the moment. That's what scores of the best motion picture houses of Greater Boston will offer their patrons, commencing next Monday in co-operation with the Boston Evening American and Sunday Advertiser.

Ever alert to serve the great American public, and desirous of carrying this service beyond the limits of the printed page, the Boston Evening American and Sunday Advertiser have developed a unique motion picture service, keeping a vast public constantly informed on important events of local, national and international interest.

A special department has been created in the "Great" newspaper for handling this novel news service and for getting it before the eyes of the thrifty public.

News from all the many sources which are regularly drawn upon by a great Metropolitan newspaper, including its district staff, its correspondents, its exclusive news gathering services, such as the International News Service, will pass before the eyes of the editor in charge.

News received in the evening hours, after the printing of the last afternoon edition, and often, please turn to Page 5, Column 2.

of momentous interest, will be assembled, written in concise form, and sent out by a corps of assistants by wire to the associated motion picture houses.

As soon as the news is received at the theater, it is flashed upon the screen.

The results of elections, major athletic events, all sorts of important happenings of the day will be given in theater audiences the day or night it happens, while it is news, and not the next day.

ATHLETIC NEWS

These News Flashes, starting in three more Greater Boston motion picture theaters next Monday evening, will be authentic, instantaneous news. They will be no publicity or doubt, no depending upon hearing or learning. The news will be flashed in great letters on the screen before the audiences of these theaters.

The value of this movie news service will become more and more evident as time passes. The rapid dissemination of news and progress, the most progressive communities are those where the public is most alert and kept abreast of the progress of events in the world at large.

With the advance of civilization there is a greater and greater interdependence among the people of the land, and it is with the thought of advancing the progressiveness of Greater Boston that the Boston Evening American and the Boston Advertiser embark upon this service to the public.

WHILE TO READ THEM

If your favorite motion picture theater has not made arrangements for the Boston Evening American nightly news service, readers of this paper may succeed in the theater manager the installation of the service.

The following theaters have already arranged to give this news service each night including Sunway and Hollywood, commencing next Monday:

Kodak-Albee, Stuart, Washington, Globe, Park, Olympia, Columbia, National, Grand, Strand, in Boston; University, Grand, Hall, in Cambridge; Sunway, in Danvers; Capitol, in Arlington; Coolidge, in Watertown; Anderson, in Milton; Dorchester and Hamilton, in Dorchester; Motion Theater, in Melrose.

Lighting Performs Queer Pranks in Canton Homes

Canton, June 29—Lighting in the recent electrical storm performed some queer pranks in this place.

At A. F. Tirrell was drawing water from the faucet, a ball of fire came in on it, cutting the length of the sink, and disappearing down another pipe at the end of the sink. He received a severe shock, and was rendered speechless for a short time. Feeling did not return in one arm for several hours.

At the home of S. R. Ellis, lightning demolished a dish mop, broke up in several places and burned where it landed.

GUN SAVES COP FROM BOYS IN
LYNN FIGHT

Fourth of July bonfires are burned in Lynn, but the small boys of Lenox Hill have repeatedly erected a heap of bones, barrels and railroad ties of late, only to have their eyes as regularly demolished by Patrolman George Kennedy.

Things reached a climax today. Jagged like the boys of Boston when the redcoats spotted their skating on Frog Pond, they lay in wait for Kennedy.

As soon as he went to work to destroy their newest effort they opened fire with a barrage of old cans, vegetables and other missiles from their ambush.

Two more boys can throw a lot of stuff in a few minutes, and Kennedy quickly looked against the pile and resorted to firing shots in the air to frighten them away. They scattered and the retired to have his clothes cleaned and paint his bruises with balm, and the issue is not yet settled.

HARTFORD CASE HEARING SET FOR FALL

The petition filed by the former wife of Ezra C. H. Hartford to compel him to pay $175 alleged to be in arrears for the support of his minor daughter, has been confirmed until the fall for a hearing in Middlesex Probate Court.
Announcement that this petition had been dismissed was in error.
The plan disposed of by Judge
Leggat was a contempt proceeding pay $125 under a written agreement to advance $10 weekly to his daughter.

Hartford told Judge Leggat he had deducted $125 on the theory that he was not expected to pay the weekly allowance while his daughter was out of the state.
Judge Leggat ruled that Hartford must make the weekly payments while his daughter is at a summer camp in New Hampshire, and ordered him to pay the $125
forthwith. The court did not hold Hartford in contempt because of his explanation that he did not think he was obliged to meet the payments while his daughter was away.

In 1922, Mrs. Hartford had her husband arrested for failure to support their daughter. Mrs. Hartford and her daughter went to Florida
the following winter.

Her husband, in her absence, obtained a divorce for cruel and abusive treatment and custody of his daughter. Returning to Boston,
Mrs. Hartford retained Robert H.
O. Schuch as counsel, who filed objection to the allowance of the divorce. November 28, 1924, and sought and obtained custody of the daughter. Schuch had not acted as Mrs. Hartford's attorney prior to this.

Mrs. Hartford has since cared for and educated her daughter. The girl has never been out of her custody. Judge Leggat authorized the father to see his child "at reasonable times."

Hartford's lapses of weekly payments toward the support of his daughter compelled his wife to file contempt petitions on four occasions with the result that she was forced to pay up back amounts. Refusal to pay while his daughter was at camp was a new complication which Judge Leggat was called upon to adjust immediately.

COLTON, DEAN OF 'AD' MEN, 75 TODAY

The dean of Boston advertising men, and a well-loved figure in the business life of Boston, William Colton of the Wood, Putnam & Wood agency, was the recipient of congratulations from many friends today as he observed his 75th birthday at his home, 41 Lakeside ave.,
South Braintree.

Still active and in excellent health, he "just knows off work" for the day to be with the flowers in his garden.
Stretching over so many years,
his career has been an interesting one, his life a full one. His remarkable vigor and keenness for work at the 75th milestone he ascribes in great part to not eating too much and getting enough sleep.
Born in Philadelphia June 29, 1853, he moved to Portland, Me., with his parents when five years old. At the age of 18 he came to Boston and after being connected for a time with the retail shoe business he went to work for the Boston Advertiser. Later he went with the Post and in 1872 left to found the advertising agency of Colton & Walsh.

This agency consolidated with Putnam & Co. and later some of the staff formed the notable Wood, Putnam & Wood agency.
"Bill," Colton lives quietly in South Braintree with Mrs. Colton and their daughter, Marion. Lewis K. a son, is a Harvard graduate and landscape gardener, and there are three grandchildren.

CONFIDENTIAL

TEXAS PUBLIC SERVICE INFORMATION BUREAU,
October 22, 1928.
7709 MARKET ST.

Constructive news and informative items about the public utility industry in Texas as published in Texas newspapers during the months of May, June, July, August and September—the first five months of the current fiscal year—amounted to 4,500 items. The space occupied was approximately 21,400 lines or 1,000 columns. Of this total approximately 81% was taken directly from the press bulletins issued by this Bureau.

This report is based upon clippings received by this Bureau from press clipping services as the Bureau does not attempt to read more than a few representative newspapers. It is certain that a great deal of matter was published that is not here accounted for.

Details are as follows—

	Lines	Columns
General Utility Matter	7,073	360
Gas	1,477	70
Electric Power & Light	5,402	320
Telephones	8,057	240
Electric Railways	22,400	1,000
Average per Month	8,340	214
Articles on this basis for year	54,800	8,664

"CONSTRUCTIVE" AND "INFORMATIVE" NEWS about the virtues of power, light and gas utilities—and what they declared Congress should do—flourished like the green bay tree in Texas, as this report from the State propaganda bureau shows. The report was confidential until a subpoena made it Exhibit No. 2330 in the Federal Trade Commission's investigation. It shows 1070 columns of this matter blazoned before Texas newspaper readers in five months. "Of this total approximately 80 per cent was taken directly from the press bulletins issued by this Bureau," says the report. And it adds: "It is certain that a great deal of matter was published that is not here accounted for."

SECRET POWER FUND EXPOSED

By M. L. RAMSAY
Universal Service Correspondent
Washington, June 29.—A $15,000 secret lobby fund used by electric power and light and other utility companies to influence the Indiana Legislature was disclosed before the federal trade commission.

This fund was used in part to influence the Indiana Public Utility Commission. It was raised by the same group through "special agents" from utility companies, some of whom are now in the hands of the federal government.

East Milton Mother Gives Safety Don't's

By Frank A. Goodwin
Highway Safety Editor Boston Evening American and Former Registrar of Motor Vehicles for Commonwealth of Massachusetts

Mothers who think children are able to take care of themselves are adopting an "inexcusable attitude," in the opinion of Mrs. Nelson B. Wells of 413 Pleasant st., East Milton.

Mrs. Wells won honorable mention in the Mothers' Safety Don't's contest. Her code follows:

Don't allow children about your car, even when you are alone.

Don't fail to insure older children with the necessary for constant vigilance; the "mother's care" for "independent" attitude is inexcusable.

Don't on the other hand scare them to death by continually exhorting them to be hurt.

Don't fail to Frank A. Goodwin wait for traffic officer's signal on a guarded crossing ALWAYS. This is one of the most important lessons that children can learn.

Don't send the moving car as the only danger. Many lives are lost by the starting of a car in reverse, or turning around.

Don't cross the street with an umbrella blocking your view. There is a big increase in accidents on stormy days.

Don't forget that it takes longer for a car to stop on a wet or icy street.

Don't fail to get the number of a car involved in an accident and name of witnesses, if possible. This is of great importance and is seldom done.

Don't cross in the middle of a block, or at an angle.

Don't ever step out of your car without looking both ways first.

Mrs. M. C. O'Brien, 413 Washington st., Cambridge, sent in these Don'ts which received honorable mention.

Don't allow your children to use the street as a playground.

Don't allow your child to cross the street across at unguarded crossings.

Don't fail to teach your children to look in both directions before crossing.

Don't fail to take your children by the hand when crossing a street.

Don't allow your children to "hook ride" on any kind of vehicle.

Don't fail to teach your children the meaning of the various colored traffic signals.

Don't fail to warn your children regarding carelessness—the cause of the majority of accidents.

Don't allow your children to go out without first cautioning them of any dangers.

Don't try to frighten your children with threats. "If I call a policeman" Teach them that policemen are there to help.

Don't be too lenient with your children if they disregard the above rules—it is for their own good.

For 20 years their favorite cereal has been

THERE isn't any question about it. Folks in New England must prefer Kellogg's Corn Flakes, or they could not, year after year, outsell all others by more than five to one!

There can be only one reason: It's more pleasure to eat Kellogg's. The flavor suits your taste better. The extra-crispness delights you more. Your home folks—guests—all prefer the oven-freshness, the healthfulness, the all-round goodness of Kellogg's Corn Flakes.

Kellogg made the first corn flakes

Since then, there have been hundreds of imitators.

But you—and the millions of others who know the difference between the original and an imitation—have made Kellogg's the world's most popular ready-to-eat cereal!

When you buy Kellogg's, you know you are buying the corn flakes that nearly everybody likes best!

Make sure you always get the favorite. Ask for Kellogg's Corn Flakes—in the red-and-green package. At your grocer's. In restaurants, hotels. On diners.

MR. BOSTON

By Jack Conway

MR. BOSTON motored up to Johnny Cassetta's, Sharon Gardens to get a peek at Sammy Fuller, named the American Pancho Villa by the late Tom Goodwin who considered the sturdy North Enders as the greatest fighting machine of his weight and inches in the world.

"Hello there, Mr. Boston," was Fuller's pleasant greeting as the veteran ambled across a beautiful lawn.

"How are you hitting?" asked Mr. Boston as he stopped Fuller's extended hand.

"Right on the button," laughed the youngster, who battles Honeyboy Finnegan on next Monday night at the Arena in a bout in which both the New England junior lightweight and lightweight championships will be at stake.

"One inside and I'll show you how a present day fighter lives the life of Riley while getting fit for battle," resumed Fuller.

Sammy led the way into Johnny Cassetta's bungalow, a part of which has been set aside for Fuller. Sammy has a luxuriously furnished sitting room, a bedroom and a music room at his disposal.

"I get the most kick out of the music room," said Fuller. "I have a radio victrola and piano. They make me forget all about the worries connected with an important bout. This place is somewhat different from some of the oldtime training camps, isn't it?"

"I'll say it is," replied Mr. Boston, laughingly as his thoughts went back to some of the barns and igtas where the old timers worked out when getting ready for a ring clash.

RIP VALENTI, the youngster who has pulled Fuller from the ranks of the amateurs to a professional career, came across, called Mr. Boston.

"I'm in the best condition I ever was in," said Rip.

SOCIETY EXPECTS TO BE EXTRA ACTIVE IN NEWPORT THIS SUMMER, SAYS BETTY ALDEN

Casino Theater Season Is Extended to Eight Weeks; Dorcas Washburn to Wed Luke Burnell Lockwood

NEWPORT IS DUE THIS SEASON FOR A SOCIAL RENAISSANCE. So say the prognosticators, those fashionable wisecracks so expertly keen at translating the affairs in the wind into omens and portents. The prognosticators say "everything" points to a big summer. Aristocratic class have daughters they are preparing to launch on the battle sea that swirls the debutante from vortex to vortex in Newport. Important brides set wedding dates during the height of the season. And certain of the newer element, finding they have hurdled successfully the final formidable barriers, are ready to enjoy a Newport season to the utmost.

VISUALLY NEWPORT IS ITSELF SUPREMELY CHARMING. When nature has not supplied velvet green lawns and magnificent trees in complement sparkling ocean and rocky shores, man has endeavored to make the most of what he has. Newport is a beautiful place. Where there is another Ocean Drive, lying always between two forested coasts, and innumerable establishments fit for residents and visitors. Where one can find a Cliff Walk, a beautiful motor, a beautiful boat and a perfect view of the harbor. Where the Olympians of society, the arts and big business go so eagerly about their play.

ALL OF WHICH INDICATES THAT THE CASINO, BALY'S Beach and the Avenue will radiate life and color, such as Newport alone disseminates. And as a consequence the smart shopkeepers (laughing their wares near the Casino's sacred precincts) will be happy for several long and frosty seasons. Newport's social big wig look fondly on such a renaissance—for does it not signify that the beautiful Rhode Island is still the queen city of society on this side of the Big Pond?

NEWPORT'S SOCIAL RENAISSANCE PUTS ONCE AGAIN IN the social limelight the pretty little Casino Theater. Revived last season after a quiescence of a quarter century, the playhouse becomes very much the thing. "First nights" glittered with fire. Metropolitan brilliance to the flash of diamonds, the gleam of jewels, the glow of silk and the authority of broadcloth and fine linen. Society lined up as anxious box holders and season ticket holders. Stage limousines were used and lunched and dined, but on twilight appearances. The season was enormously successful.

THIS YEAR A CASINO THEATER THEATRICAL SEASON begins from six weeks to eight. The array of multibillionaires whose names are the preservation list is positively awe inspiring. Theatrically there is no less measure of brilliance. Names that have flickered in electric lights high over Broadway add Casino announcements. All good things as the most ardent barker could desire. Theatrical with society accompaniment—bright as the aurora borealis—are about to open. No wonder shopkeepers are happy, and Newport considers its renaissance complete.

MISS MINNA LINDSAY

Of Lyndbrook Farm, in Southbury, is to be seen everywhere the very smart set gathers. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lindsay and is kin to many important families.

of Worcester, and Luke Burnell Lockwood. In All Saints' Episcopal Church the nuptial knot will be tied in the late afternoon. Mr. Lockwood comes from New York, where his parents have a winter address. Their summer home is in the aristocratic Connecticut town of Greenwich.

WHEN AUTUMN COMES A NEW HOME IN CAMBRIDGE awaits the advent of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Wilson, Jr., who are now on the high seas following the honeymoon trail to Old World shores. Mr. Wilson hails from Chicago, being son to Mr. and Mrs. John Wilson, as the "Jr." signifies. Mrs. Wilson, new bearer of the matrimony prefix, was but a short week ago Miss Romana Warren, daughter of the Benjamin Streeter Warrens of Groton Point, Vt.

THE WARREN WILSON NUPTIALS CAME OFF WITH brilliance and color, with Miss Mary Louise Bottelfield and Miss Betty Chilton lending their bright-checked beauty to feminine pulchritude provided by the bridal train. The day was fair and richly mantled for the exchange of vows preceded a reception at "Fairlawn," the Warren home at Groton Point, that rivalled a royal garden party for picturesque at fresco details.

If those bent bones HURT...

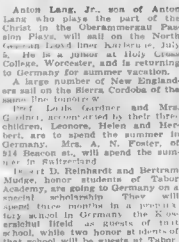

YOU would spare no effort to help your children if they complained of pains in their ankle bones. Yet so often these "turned over" ankles cause no pain at all in youth. Later the pain comes, when it is too late to do much corrective work because the bones have hardened.

You will prevent much future discomfort for your children if you prevent these distortions of their growing ankles and arches. Malformation like this is unheard of among children who always wear Coward shoes. Your boys and girls may be in vital need of this protection now.

FACT Story of the German Submarines From Secret Records

CHAPTER 4
OVER 300 years ago a little band of English malcontents sailed from Plymouth, England, to find a place in the little known New World where they might practice freedom of thought and belief without being under the charge of treason to king and country. From this slight beginning has come the mightiest migration of peoples in the history of the human race—a migration which began long before that voyage, but which first assumed significance for the future when those voyagers landed on the inhospitable coast of what was to be New England.

Why Goodyear Tires cannot become "tired" tires

We can tell you what makes "tired" tires tired. Simply "muscle" fatigue—the same thing that makes an athlete collapse.

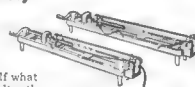

Flexing over 25,000 times an hour at a forty mile speed, the sidewalls of a tire are subjected to a cruel strain which no human muscle could stand for five minutes, perhaps not even for one minute. And a tire not engineered to stand it quickly fatigues and succumbs.

Hence Goodyear "SUPERTWIST," the rubbery cord created by Goodyear which not only stretches farther than any other cord but "flexes" right back again under the severest going.

That means many things—found in these Goodyear Tires which we offer you: A sidewall which does not weaken; a sidewall which does not become distorted; a sidewall which does not tire; a sidewall which does not collapse; a sidewall which endures as long as the outer tread; a sidewall which delivers all the miles you pay for, and more—and adds to your riding and pocket comfort.

See for yourself

Come, see for yourself what goes on inside tires built with SUPERTWIST. As Goodyear dealers we will be glad to demonstrate the "Supertwist" principle—found only in Goodyear Tires—by which Goodyears deliver every mile you pay for, as against the ten to fifteen per cent less mileage of "tired" tires built with cords that do not have the mileage capacity of SUPERTWIST.

With these new low prices on GOODYEARS you don't need to be without new tires for the Fourth

BEACON MOTOR OIL

Specially Refined for Modern Motors

So swift has been the pace in motor improvement—that the racing practice of yesterday is the stock-car practice of to-day. And with the marvelous increase in speed, power output and efficiency has come a host of new lubricating problems, which the motor-oil must solve. Whirlwind speed—terrible pressure—clearances measured by the ten-thousandths of an inch—and a veritable inferno of heat.

Only an oil super-refined like BEACON MOTOR OIL can meet the conflicting requirements of the new-day car. Being absolutely free from gummy residue or tarry substance—it retains its "body" and lubricating value under extreme pressure and high heat. Flowing freely at zero—it is the ideal all-year lubricant. And its lack of carbon-forming content makes it especially desirable for high compression motor use.

MASTER-MIND SUBMITS SELF TO AMAZING TEST

This is Pittsburgh H. McArthur, who recently submitted himself to an amazing test. Blindfolded, he listened to phonograph records of "Bismarck" and "Starbuck" and successfully told which was which. As the records were immediately thrown into an ashcan, before the blindfold was removed, it is believed that the experiment was honestly conducted. Mrs. McArthur was in charge of the test.

COURT WILL NOT HALT CHRYSLER-DODGE MERGER

New York, June 23 (AP)—Supreme Court Justice Mullan today denied the application of Calvin H. Goddard, minority stockholder in the Dodge Bros. Corporation, for an injunction to restrain the proposed merger of the Chrysler, Motor Car corporation with the Dodge Corporation.

Buffalo, June 25 (AP)—Directors of the Pierce Arrow Motor Car Company approved a merger with the Studebaker Corporation.

The directors' unanimous action, which was made after a meeting of the directors, said that a new holding company would be formed to acquire all the properties and assets of the two companies, valued at $160,000,000. Studebaker will acquire a substantial interest in the new company.

Myron E. Forbes, president of Pierce Arrow, said the company has 100 plants and 10,000 employees, expanded manufacturing facilities

It was felt, he said, that a merger with Studebaker would give the Pierce Arrow a new output.

Directors of the Studebaker corporation approved the merger on June 24.

Studebaker is under no obligation to proceed with the merger unless at least 90 per cent of the shares of the preferred stockholders and at least 75 per cent of the shares of the common stockholders of the Pierce Arrow Company assent to the plan.

R. Erakine, president of the Studebaker Company, who attended the meeting of the Pierce Arrow directors, said that the new board of the new company and Mr. Forbes will be president.

ment, which, as they all know, is the prevailing condition in the South.

In New York there are many colored voters that no longer vote for Abraham Lincoln, even going so far as to vote for a Democrat.

Canada sent $8,000,000 in gold to bolster the Canadian dollar, a little weak. Our gold seems to have stopped moving to Europe, now that the French franc is stabilized.

Wall Street was cheerful about that and some other things and put up prices in spite of "call money" opening at 7½ per cent.

For one thing, Wall Street is not worrying about the national election; that helps.

It is possible to be too enthusiastic, Mrs. Cornelius.

New Jersey, joined in the convention enthusiasm, holding a beautiful banner. Senator Robnson announced later, "the lady-hat was knocked off, with $48—one $20 bill, four $5 bills and eight $1 bills—pinned to it."
That is not the conventional idea of a lady concealing money.

NATIONAL POLICIES OF THE HEARST NEWSPAPERS

1. An agreement of English-speaking peoples to preserve peace among themselves and promote the peace of the world.
2. A constitutional amendment to provide for the election of United States Senators in numbers proportionate to the population of each State, but no State to have less than two Senators. A reapportionment of Congressional representation immediately.

3. After every census, or in case of the failure of Congress to act, to make the apportionment automatic at the end of the first Congressional session, the proportion of population for each representative in each case to be that of the existing Congress.
4. Federal action to the limit of Federal Government powers to abolish illiteracy among the people of the United States, and the creation of a Secretary of Education.

5. Necessary measures to secure the election of Congress in November and its installation on the 1st of January following, and the inauguration of a President on the 1st of January immediately following his election in November.

Dobbin Comes Back

Apparently No Chance of the Horse Becoming Extinct in America

In the face of the fact that automobiles are now more numerous and cheaper than ever before, the price of horses and mules has recently taken a sharp upward turn. In fact, it looks as if the horse was actually started on his way back.

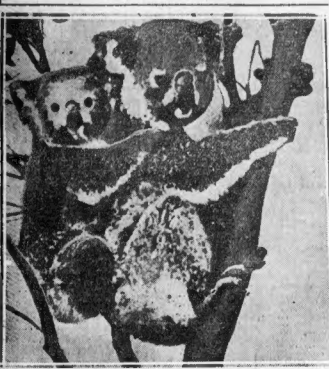

From 1900 to 1928, horses and mules in New England fell from 380,000 to 231,000; in New York and Michigan from 1,360,000 in 1914 to 630,000 this year; in Illinois from 1,680,000 in 1913 to 1,045,000 this year; in Iowa, from 1,674,000 in 1913 to 1,170,000 this year.

The South, slower to adopt tractor power, did better; but about 1920 its horse power began to fall off. Recently, however, in nearly all parts of the country the demand has been looking up, prices are better, and the disposition to breed is strong.

In fact the Department of Agriculture believes that in the next few years there will be an acute, perhaps a serious, shortage of horses. Apparently there is no more chance of the horse becoming extinct than there is of the automobile market being saturated.

Maternal Love

Beautiful in the Koala

MOTHER AND CHILD—BOTH WELL

This, ladies and gentlemen, is the Australian native bear or "Koala," carrying a baby on its back.

Wherever mamma goes, baby Koala goes along. A moment on this bear family will not be wasted. Like all animals in Australia, the Koala is strange and queer. Like the Kangaroo, the Koala is a Marsupial. The mother has a pouch in front like that of a Kangaroo. But the baby bear seems to have outgrown it, and travels around on his mother's back.

Below you see Papa Koala with a proud, fierce expression, indicating that he thinks he did something well worth while in contributing baby Koala to Australia's population.

THIS IS PAPA KOALA

These little Koala bears are not really bears at all. Our grizzlies, brown or black bears, would refuse to recognize them. But they LOOK like bears.

The Koala lives with his family high up in the eucalyptus trees or gum trees, eating great quantities of the leaves of these trees, and eating nothing else. The Koala mouth and digestive apparatus are especially arranged to eat eucalyptus.
